Elk ~~NECK~~ NECK MILL SITES 1 AND 2

North East

Private

18th century

An active mill was once located on the now quiet Piney Creek which empties into the Elk River. Occupation of the mill dates back to the 18th century under the ownership of the Hyland family. Nineteenth century mill activities continued under the Elk Neck Hart family. However, the 1858 Martenet Map indicates a F. Keatly had assumed title. The fieldstone foundations are all that remains today.

DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

Two uncoursed stone foundations are located to the north of Stradley Road and off Old Neck Road and near Piney Creek. The larger of the two foundations measures 28' x 24' with varying wall heights due to its deterioration. The walls are about 24" thick. The second foundation is closer to the creek and in better condition. The rectangular shape measures 13' x 8'7" and is approximately 12' deep. The interior wall surfaces are stuccoed.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

These two foundations are what remain of a mill which was primarily active in the mid to late 19th century. The ruins are not very substantial but do offer some possible archeological exploration. The exact uses of each ruin is not definitely known.
